The New York Americans are now at the head of their organization. They are the only team of the eight that has not lost a The American League was more fortunate than the National Leaguers yesterday and stood off the doleful and damp weather long enough to play four games. It was the second game for all concerned, and the New Yorks battled to a ten inning tie the Washingtons, Griffith using two pitchers, although the hitting of the Washingwas very light. It was the first tie game of the pennant season. The New Yorks also figured in another happening that was the having a man put out of the game. Elberfeld, who is in the McGraw class in getting into proncles with umpires, was the one ejected. The Clevelands, Philadelphian and Chi-ecros all evened up on their opponents. The Clevelands made good use of the stick and walked away from the Detroits: the Philadelphias turned the tables on the Bustons, and the Chicagos won a game from St. Louis in which the matering was lively on both sides. The Washingtons are last, www six teams need for second place. The results.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A tenacious contest between the Washingtons and New Yorks here to-day went ten innings without a decision. The two tesms battled for two and a half hours with the theremometer not many degrees above the freezing point and until darkness put an end to the struggle. Billy Hogg's wildness and Kid Elberfeld's granaciousness were responsible for New Fork not winning. Eiberfeld was indirectly responsible for one run scored by Washington for being put out of the game for sicking on his third strike in the first inning. This necessitated Elberfeld being substituted at short by Conroy, who made an error in the first inning which resulted is a run with the assistance of a stolen base and Hickman's two bages.

one of the biggest professional sprint races of recent years took place a little more than a week ago at Brongliton, England, the stake money being $1,500, along with a percentage of the gate receipts. The competitors, three in number, were E. Eastman of Canada, W. Growcott of England and P. Campbell of Ireland. Eastman, who is a colored man, once secured a Canadian championship, and some time later earned distinction by defeating Tommy Keans of Boston. He is a mative of St. Johns, Newfoundland. Grownative of St. Johna. Newfoundland. Growcott's best previous performance occurred in a 60 yard race against Bailey of Hulme, in which the latter had an allowance of 3% yards. Growcott wor and it sent his stock up considerably: Campbell had a middling reputation as an amsteur in Ireland, but has dons better, as a professional. In the last Powderhall handleap of 130 yards he reached the final and finished fourth to Raisbeck, who had an allowance of six yards on him.
On account of this good showing Campbell challenged the world and the result was the present match. Growcott started favorite at 13 to 8 on, odds of 2 to 1 being laid against the Irishman, while Eastman was practically friendless at 10 to 1 against. Eastman was quickest off his mark and led for eighty yards, where Growcott overhauled him and won by three-quarter of a yard. Campbell was never in it and finished three yards in the rear.
The time was 10 seconds, but a strong wind blew against the runners, else the clocking would have been much better. W. H. Morton, the ex-champlon distance runner, was the manager. There were 2,000 persons present.

Monthly handicaps will be on April 27 and 28, May 28 and 28 and June 15 and 16. As with all the week end fixtures, cards may be returned on Saturday or Sunday. Donors of cups for the weekly competitions this spring are James A. Emery, 'Econard Hull Smith, W. C. Biddle, C. J. Sawyer, T. A. Reid, C. A. Kimball, J. B. Harris, F. E. Lally and J. H. Moclement. The president's oup will be played for on Decoration Day, eight to qualify, and there will be an sighteen hole class A and B handicap on July 4. As at Dyker Meadow, the qualifiers for the club championship in the fall will be the makers of the sixteen lowest gross scores in the monthly handicaps. The more stringent condition is added that the event is limited to members playing in at least three monthly handicaps. The course is now in play with the summer greens. The seventh hole has been restored to full length. The new sewer is nearly completed and will not change the course, except to shorten the fourth hole by twenty-five yards. George J. Bouse, the young homebred professional at Lawrence school last year, has been hired as professional in Tom Gourlay's place, who has gone to the Roseville Golf Club.

Spring contests at the Essex County Country Club will begin on May 4 with a handicap match for a cup presented by J. H. Bailey, president of the Tatham Golf Club, of Staffordshire. England. The course has been made in 72 by Dave Hunter, the Easex county professional, and Jerome Travers has made a 73. The bogey is 76. The Essex County Country Club, which has dropped the competition during the two seasons of constructive work on the extended course, will again hold an invitation tournament this fall.

Play on the regular putting greens at the Glen Ridge Golf Club will begin on Saturdays. The clubhouse is open and will stay so during the alterations which will add materially to the comfort and convenience, of the members. The principal change will be to convert the women's looker room into a public room, for use mostly as a dining room. More space is to be given to the kitchen and new quarters built for the women's parlor and locker room.

Amos T. Dwight made a brilliant score to open the monthly handicap events at the Dyker Meadow folf Club yesterday. There was excellent going despite the soft ground, and in the field of twenty-two Dwight won both gross and net honors with 74.0-74. This equalled the course record held by W. B. Rhett, but the latter made his score under the regular rules. Dwight made a 37 in each circuit. The cards returned were:

LONGBOAT REINSTATED. Mystery of Indian Runner's Restoration Equals That of His Suspension.

Thomas Longboat, the noted Indian distance runner of Canada, has been reinstated rather suddenly by the Canadian A. A. U. for the purpose, it appears, of taking part in the Marathon race at Boston. But Longboat will nevertheless compete under protest, at least until the national registration comsatisfied that his amateur status is unsulfied.

He was to have run at the New York A. C. meet on March 12, and on the day of the games N. H. Crowe of the Canadian A. A. U. wired that the Indian was suspended. No reason was given for the suspension by the Canadians, and the matter had partly dropped until a few days ago. Then came the news from Boston that Longboat had entered for the Marathon, and the A. NO LICENSE FOR EMPIRE TRACK. Mills Denies Application for Writ of Mandamus. WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 13 .- Justice N. Mills in the Supreme Court of Westchester county to-day handed down a decision denying the application of the Empire City Trotting Club for a peremptory mandamus to compel the State Racing Commission to grant a license to hold running race meetings. The club based its contention on the ground that the commission in re-fusing a license to the Empire City track cted in an unjust and arbitrary manner. Justice Mills in his sixteen page decisio declared that he found this charge to be declared that he found this charge to be unfounded. It was the third application for a license that the Empire City Trotting Club has made in three years, all of which have met with refusal.

On the occasion of a refusal this year the club for the first time resorted to the courts. Argument against the issuance of the writ was heard by Justice Mills two weeks ago at Yonkers. The contention of the State Racing Commission was that an amendment to the racing law gave it full and absolute power and discretion in the matter of licenses. The court, therefore, could not properly issue a writ, declared Col. Bartlett, attorney for the commission. Justice Mills requested briefs from both sides before making his decision.

The decision establishes for the time being that the State Racing Commission is absolute. It is not known whether the Empire City Trotting Club, through James Butler, its president, will carry the case higher up.

G. Fred Pelham Wins Huggins Cup From Scratch at Travers Island.

G. Fred Pelham was the star of the New York A. C. shooters at Travers Island yesterday. He figured on scratch in every event of the six. His best win, however, was for the Huggins cup and he secured the leg on it after a stirring tussle with Fred Hodgeman. The latter had a start of one target on the scratch man and when the twenty-five blue rocks had been trapped Pelham andHodgeman were tied at 23. They shot off and Pelham won by a target, his total being 24 out of a won by a target, his total being 24 out of a possible 25, which undoubtedly was the best work of the day. Hodgeman won the leg on the April cup after a tie with Schauffer.

The only man to capture double brackets was Schauffer. For trophy No. 3 he won out after another tie with Hodgeman and in the "ten pairs of doubles" Schaufferwas high gun. Bavier and Dugro were the other winners.

that the Crescents have to do with, and J. Cassidy, Jr.

The match was a hot one from the start. At the end of the first round, when each of the seven men on the two teams had shot at 28 targets, the score was Boston A. A., 187; Crescent A. C., 181. Things looked rather blue for the visitors then, but they did well in the second round through the good work of F. B. Stephenson and A. G. Southworth and with the match half over the Crescent team was leading by three targets. Boston then took a brace and with the match three-quarters over had a lead of two targets and on the last 25 the Crescent men gained 5 targets, making them winners of the day by 3.

F. B. Stephenson was high gun, scoring 91, and H. M. Brigham, Dr. E. T. Gleason and H. Pilkin were next with 87 each. In the Boston A. A. house and all had a royal good time. The scores:

CAPSICUM FOR CLASS Q. C. Sherman Hoyt Designs Her and Will Race Her This Season.

C. Sherman Hoyt has designed a class Q yacht which he will race this season. The yacht is being built by the Greenport Basin and Construction Company, and will be named Capsicum. Her dimensions are 38 feet 10 inches over all, 27 feet 6 inches on the water line, 7 feet 2 inches beam and 6 feet 1 inch draught. She will have 6,000 pounds of lead ballist and spread 835 square feet of on-yas. The boot is not one of extreme type and her displacement is quite heavy, being 180 cubic feet, as-against 10 feet in the Joy. The yacht is being built up to the scantling regulations recently framed by the Boston yachtsmen who are interested in the class. She will have hollow spars.
Class 6 will be the class of the season. It first became popular down the bay, and then, through Sir Thomas Lipton offering a cup to the Massachusetts yachtsmen, it became popular in Eastern waters; and this year five bouts are being constructed for Boston vachtsmen. Several are being built for raceing on the Sound, and at the end of the season these bouts will gather at Jamestown to compete for the King Edward cup, which will be emblematic of the championship. and Construction Company, and will be

SYRACUSE CREW IS HEAVY.

Great Expectations of Speed Because of Power in Varsity Boat The followers of rowing at Syracuse feel necouraged this spring by the weight of the varsity boat for Poughkeepale in June if the men who now make up Coach Ten Eyck's first combination hold their seats. There will be plenty of strength in the boat which ought to furnish speed. At present Capt. Davis, at 2, who weighs 163 pounds, is the lightest men in the varsity, while Nelson, one of last year's big freshman crew, tipping the beam at 195 pounds, is the heaviest. Nelson does not show his weight, as he is three or four inches over six feet in height.
Jim Ten Eyck, Jr., is stroking the boat.

He has yet to prove his ability at four miles. Other members of the crew are Dodge and Duvall, who rowed in last season's junior boat at Philadelphia, Rice and Andrews of boat at Philadelphia, Rice and Andrews of last season's varsity and Fisher of the '09 boat. Leon Cornwall, who steered the varsity last season, is again a candidate for this seat, as is L. W. Ellis of the '09 crew. While Coach Ten Eyck has said nothing about the freshman material, it is known that the '10 candidates are a pretty looking lot of men. Two freshman crews were held at Syracuse for practice during the Easter recess, and as yet the coach has been unable to decide upon the makeup of the boat. Champiln and Shimer, the former from Norwich, Conn., and the latter from Lockport, N. Y., are candidates for stroke and a pretty scrap for the place is on between them. Other contestants for seats in the boat who are of good calibre are, Cummings, an old Brooklyn fligh School boy, Kaley, Forbes, Hume, Peterson, Watson, Knapp, Wolfe, Kengott, Smith, Crapo, Fisher and Dascomb.

Word has reached Commodore H. D. Stephens that the Wisconsin management has completed arrangements for the Syracuse-Wisconsin boatrace at Madison, Wis. on Decoration Day. The Syracuse varsity eight and four will leave on Saturday, May 25, for the Western city in a special car. Their shells will accompany them in a big horsecar. During the absence of the coach the former varsity stroke, E. N. Packard, Jr., will direct the work of the freshmen.

The performance of the relay team composed of Young, Roy, Cox and Fisher at Buffalo last Saturday night, when it easily defeated the Seventy-fourth Regiment team in the good time of 3 minutes 33 seconds, was a surprise to even Coaches Keane and Lowe, who did not anticipate such a fast performance considering the limited training of the men. Marble, the best of Keane's middle distance men, won the mile handily in 4 minutes 48 seconds. Roy and Marble are sophomores and are considered finds. It looks as if they would be intercollegiate material by the time the big meet comes around.

Syracuse will be represented at the Pennsylvania relay games on April 27 at Philadelphia by Capt. Allen. who has already don ast season's varsity and Fisher of the '09 boat. Leon Cornwall, who steered the YALE CREWS BACKWARD. Discouraging Weather Conditions Put Them a Month Behind in Training.

NEW HAVEN, April 13 .- With discouraging weather conditions the Yale crews under Capt. Ide of the varsity squad and Coach John Kennedy put in a hard week's work. The Yale rowing coaches realize that the crews this season are at least a month behind previous years and that only the hardesi kind of work can turn out even an average crew in time for the June regatta at New men out in the harbor for good long pulls to the breakwater a month earlier than this, the water so far has been too rough and the weather too unfavorable for anything more than short pulls close to the boathouse. On Friday afternoon for the first time since Kennedy got the varsity squad on the water

Kennedy got the varsity squad on the water he sent two of his crews out into the harbor for a three mile spin.

The varsity and second eight started out late in the afternoon when the water had smoothed down a bit to make it safe for the shells to take a try in the harbor and Capt. Ide ordered the men to pull out toward the lighthouse.

They went out at an easy stroke and when Kennedy had followed them in the launch to the three mile line he suggested a race between the two crews back up the harbor. In the varsity shell were:

Auchincloss, 1; Griswold, 2; Rice, 3; Hoppin, 4; Taft, 5; Howe, 6; Ide (captain), 7; Bolton, stroke.

Both crews got away easily, the varsity

Both crews got away easily, the varsity taking a slight lead, starting off with a 32 stroke, which after the first few lengths they dropped to a 30, which they held to the finish.

they dropped to a 30, which they held to the finish.

Both eights rowed in good form and made a fair showing, the varsity gradually crawling away from the second eight, until at the finish there was about a boat length of open water between them.

As it was the first long brush of the season, the coaches watched the form of the men closely and seemed fairly encouraged with the result, considering the backwardness of the season. Those watching the brush could get no line on the speed of the craws, as no watches were held on any part of the race, and it will be several weeks before any of the rowing officials will undertake to gauge the speed. When the craws got back to the boathouse they were in good form, and none of the men showed any effects from the six miles hard pull. hard pull.

For the first time the Yale freshmen in four

For the first time the Yale freshmen in four eights got into the shells on Friday afternoon. The season is also behind as far as the freshman crew is concerned. Last year the freshman crew was picked a month or two earlier than this, and so far this year the coaches have had no opportunity to get a line on the new material. Coach Blair of the freshman eight has been laid up for a day or two the past week, and Kennedy has had to take the first year men in charge as well as ithe varsity.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL Camerons Beat Brooklyn in Game Under Adverse Conditions.

Playing under somewhat adverse conditions, the Camerous of this city and champions of the New York Amateur League Association Football League survived another round of the league's cup tie series by defeating the eleven of the Brooklyn Football Club by 2 goals to 0 at the Cove, West New Brighton, Staten Island, yesterday afternoon, and Staten Island, yesterday afternoon, and thereby earned the right to meet the Boys' club term in the deciding game for the cup a week hence. The turf at the Cove was in a soggy condition, which made the footing anything but sure.

Ten minutes after the start the Camerons drew first blood in consequence of a "corner," which brought about a mixup in front of the Brooklyn goal. Before the ball could be derived iane, at inside right, had headed through for the first tally of the game. The half ended with the Camerons leading by 1 to 0.

half ended with the Camerons leading by 1 to 0.

After the restart the hot pace was kept up, but owing to the additional rainfall spills become more plentiful. Within 20 minites of play the Brooklyns came very near scoring. The Camerons scored their second go il through a straight shot for the go il from the centre by Cart. Hastings, which the Brooklyn custodian misiudged. Wet weather and muddy grounds interfered with other games in this vicinity yesterday.

MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS. Former Champion Larned and Miss Sea

Win Match in Indoor Tournament. There were only two matches in the indoor tennis tournament in the St. Nicholas Rink vesterday afternoon. The competitions of the day were in mixed doubles, for which six pairs were in mixed doubles, for which six pairs were entered. Owing to the absence of Beals C. Wright, who was expected to play in one match, only two matches could be played. Mrs. Barger-Wallach and her part-ner, Raymond D. Little, had a bye until Monday, by which time it is expected that Wright will arrive in this country.

Miss Eleanora Sears of Boston, who is de lared by many persons to be in line for the seasons have passed, was partnered with William A. Larned, the old Cornell player and former national champion, in the first them were Miss Jean Reid and Theodore R This was a very clever match and well played throughout, the victory going to the first named pair, but not until three sets had played throughout, the victory going to the first named pair, but not until three sets had been played.

Good work at the net was responsible for the good showing of Miss Reid and Mr. Pell finthe first set. They led throughout and won by a score of s games to 3. Larned then began to play an effective back court game and scored many points on clean passes. Miss Sears took up a position at the net and active volleying and good placing helped her side to a comfortable victory. Miss Reid had to take the brunt of the attack, and she was not quite up to the task. The former champion and his partner went through this set at top speed and won out by 6-1.

Once started at a pace like this there was no way of stopping the leaders. They dashed along in fine style and with the progress of the set grew more fatal in accuracy. It was now any of stopping the leaders. They dashed along in fine style and with the progress of the dark riving tennis and all the more difficult to cope with because of the darkness of the day. The third and deciding set was six games to love in favor of Miss Sears and Larned.

Miss Marion Fenno, another Bostonian, and George L. Wrenn, Jr., won the second match from Miss Phyllis Greene of Philadelphia and Edgar W. Leonard, the former Harvard champion. This was accomplished in straight sets, the scores being 6-4, 6-4. The Philadelphia girl played a very active game and used good judgment in placing. The steadiness of the opposing pair was what counted in the long run for the victory. There was a good gallery present as on presecting days. Among those who jwere there were Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gould, Mrs. R. V. L. Pruyn, COLUMBIA CREW PRACTISE. Second Varsity Beats First in Three Mile Spin-Men Change Places.

Several changes were made in the boating of the Columbia crews yesterday, some of which may be permanent. The most significant is the transference of Starbuck to the second boat. Robinson, who has been in the second boat, was sent to No. 3 in the first. where he replaced Boyle, who was transferred to No. 5. Von Saltza was unable to be present and his place at No. 4 was taken by J. Macken-zie. This change is not regarded as permanent, however.

With this combination the second varsity was able to defeat the first in a three mile race. The first, second and third boats were started, with the varsity about a length and a half behind the others. All the crews went at about 30 to the minute. Durant, who was coxswain of the second boat, steered for the dead water, while Winstow, in the first boat hit the tide. At the end of three miles the second boat had increased its lead to two lengths and a half, while the third boat had dropped well in the rear The boating of the three crews was as folchallenge cup at Henley in 1843, died recently at Eastbourne. England, at the advanced age of 37 years. On account of his years and being a member of the noted crew ("ox had long been regarded as the most noted oarsman in the world. But perhaps the details of this "seven oar" race have never reached the ears of the present generation. Oxford and Cambridge Subscription Rooms were the opponents in the final heat for the "grand," but Fletcher Menzies, stroke of the Oxford boat, was taken ill immediately before the race.

When it was seen that Menzies could not possibly row Oxford asked permission to put in a substitute. Cambridge positively refused, giving as a reason that it established a bad precedent, which would afterward be an excuse for the wholesale drafting of men. Then Oxford decided to row with seven men. To this the Cantabs objected and appealed to I ord Camoys, who was the referee, to know if they were compelled to row against seven men. It is lordship decided there was no ruling on the m tter and promptly ordered the race to be rowed. Thereupon Oxford pluckily backed to the starting line with seven orra. Never since at Henley was there such excitement, and Oxford won by a length. After the rice the souvenir hunters literally tore the clothes off the cersmen, and in many parts of England to-day bits of the caps and shirts are highly treasured. The president's chair at the Oxford University Boat Club is made out of a section of the consumin's seat, while the two ends of the boat are in the possession of Lady Stainer. Mr. Cox was for thirty years vicar of Felsted, in Essex, and for ten years chaplain of the British Embassy at Paris.
